"Waltz divinely! Yes," said the old man, "many a young man who now waltzes divinely and won't encircle with his arm anything tamer than a hundred dollar dress can remember when a boy how he used to dance jigs on the cellar doors for umps of sugar and have his mother call to him from a garret window to go right straight and buy her that ten cents worth of meal."

"I don't care what you say about him, papa," said young brother, "he can just beat 'em all in town shootng an air gun."

Spring time is now with us and no time must be lost in preparing our gardens. A plentiful supply of fresh vegetables is just half the living in a family. But good vegetables cannot be raised without planting good seed. Last year a gentleman says he plant-ed seed raised by Mr. James T. Gre-gory, of Marblehead, Massachusetts, and surprised all the neighbors with his cabbage, cantaloupes, beens, onions and tomatoes. Mr. Gregory sends out nothing but the best seed and may be relied on in what he writes or sends. It will cost nothing to order a catalogue and besides it gives much valuable information.

Koanoke county, Va., has in his possession the remains of a small writing desk which formerly belonged to Mr. Jefferson, and upon which the Declaration of Independence was drafted.

TO KEEP ORDER.

The surest way to stop offenses against the peace and good order of any community is to nip them in the bud; and the only way to nip them in the bud is to arrest a man when-In the bud is to arrest a man whenever he is seen drunk on the streets, no matter who he be; either arrest him or have him kept from the treets. Never wait for him to do something. Takehim then and there. For a man drunk is not a whit more entitled to free circulation about the aidewalks than a man cray. Most will the cases of arrest now-a-days occur after a great crime has been occur after a great crime has been done when nine times out of ten the origin can be traced back to too much liquor and might have been prevented by the immediate arrest and proper handling of the intoxicated party. In many cities if a man show symptoms of too much liquor not a barroom in the place will dare to sell him another deep another drop. Force of Habit in a Judes.

The bell rings for Supreme Court every morning at ten o'clock and every evening at three. An honored Justice of this Court sat in his room in the National hotel last Sunday evening writing a letter to his wife, and just then the Baptist church bell commenced ringing. The Judge sprang to his feet and gathered up his papers and hurrying down stairs he asked Col. Brown what time it he asked Col. Brown what time it was. "Five minutes past three," said the Colonel. "Ah, I'll be late," said the Judge, and he hurried over to the Capitol with his papers under his arm, when, lo, he found the doors closed, and the Judge remembered it was Sunday.

was Sunday.

SHOT AND KILLED WITH PEAS. William Barker, a negro man, was shot the other night over on the outskirts of the city and died yesterday morning. He bled to death. Great handsful of peas were picked from his body. He made a dying declaration that he was drinking and had the loaded with peas in his hand, and was threatening to shoot any man that fooled with him, when one of his friends came up and tried to take the gun from him, and in the scuftle the gun went off and emptied the whole load into his own body. The coroner sat on the case and decided Barker came to his death from accidental shooting.

A BRIDAL COUPLE. Nothing renders a train of cars so interesting as the appearance on board of a newly married couple. Every married man on the car will pick for the seat just behind the couple and watch their every moment with a secret delight that his wife knows nothing about. A couple were aboard the train last Monday going towards Goldsboro, and O, they were so loving, billing and cooing each other like birds. A married man sat behind, and he heard the young bride whisper once, "Quit, he's looking!"

CHANGE IN THE FREIGHT TRAINS. The freight changed its schedule last Monday. The trains meet at this point instead of at Hillsboro. They arrive here seven o'clock in the evenover all night and leaves here 6,30 in the morning, while the train to Charlotte runs on the same schedule as before and leaves here at eight in the evening.

VARIETIES.

The hymn sung at the funeral of the Hon. A. W. Venerable in Oxford was composed by himself. The excitement to see Edwin Booth was so great in Montgomery, Ala., that single seats sold for five dollars. A Boston dispatch states that the estate of the Charlotte Cushman is valued at $600,000.

San Francisco now manufactures fire-crackers instead of importing them from China.

A bill is before the Pennsylvania Legislature making cashier-gagging punishable by a fine of $10,000 and wenty years imprisonment. The Petersburg Index-Appeal endorses the suggestion of this paper that the Democratic Convention meet in Cleaveland as a capital idea. Judge Schenck last week refused the petition of creditors to appoint a Receiver for the Estates of Thos. R. Tate and Thos. W. Dewey .- Char-business men, professional men, loafers and all, engaged in a game of foot-ball in the centre of a public street in Washington last Thursday. What Next thinks it's leap year and the men are learning to kick. A lady named Mrs. Lytle, who be-longed in Bangor, N Y., died on the Midland train when near Lynchburg, Va., on Friday night, of con-sumption. She was on her way home from Florida, whither she had been in hopes of recuperating her health. A Virginia correspondent of the New York Church Journal says that Mr. A. McD. Smith, of Big Lick, Roanoke county, Va., has in his pos-session the remains of a small writ-

As the time for nominating a can-As the time for nominating a candidate for Governor approaches, there is naturally an increasing interest in regard to the place of holding the convention and as to the nominee, and it is well to have an exchange of views on these subjects. As to the place, old Person would be satisfied with Raleigh or Greensboro', though she rather prefers the latter For the man, she points to her own distinguished son, M. McGehse, the scholar, the statesman, the gentleman, and the christian. We regard this gentleman as an honor to his native county, and an honor to his native county, and an ornament to the State; his range of information is wide and accurate; his love of North Carolina is pure and devoted; and no man would preside over her nonest interests with more dignity and integrity. We hope he will not be passed, but if he is, we can held up our neighbor who "has done the State some service," to the Hon. J. Turner, lawyer, editor, and champion of the people's rights, the indomitable enemy of rights, the indomitable enemy of rings and rogues, and the untiring friend of old-fashioned principle.

When we leave our own region our eyes rest on one of your own eminent citizens, Gen. Cox, the gallant solder, the faithful solicitor, and the able and judicious head of the State Democratic Committee; and if a selection cannot be made from this trio, worthy, and, I may say, illustrious heads pop up in all directions. There is the amiable, and excellent Yeates in the east; the and excellent Yeates in the east; the high-toned and scholarly Davis in the south; the able, fearless and patriotic Scales in the centre; and in the west, the old wheel-horse Zeb Vance, a tower of strength, a man among men, the peerless speaker, and one whose executive ability was tried in fiery times. These are not half our worthies, and the truth is we have such a wealth of true and good men, that our greatest trouble will be how to decide between them. For my part, I am ready to do battle for the nomince, whoever he may be; and I earnestly invoke all our friends to rally on the motto of old Thomas Ritchie, "Union and harmony; principles, not men; everything for the cause." This is our platform here, and we invite all who love the State, and desire good government, to get on it with us. The greatest battle ever yet fought for freedom is just before us; and every one who values the dearest rights of man is called to the front. This is no time to think of personal promotion. The greatest stake of every man is the success of the conservative party— the party of patriotism, and of pure and free government.

The Other Side of The Question.

Mr. Editor: I learn on good authority, that Mr. Solicitor Harris has stated that the Grand Jury, and not he, is to blame for the indictments the morning of the 12th January; that the first man indicted was a prominent hotel keeper in this city and that the number of his license was 135; and that all indictments on the numbers running from one up to 134 inclusive were without his instruc-tion. If this statement is correct, the Solicitor is not more blamable than the Grand Jurors are. Moreover I hear that a man from Raleigh was on the Grand Jury. There has always been more or less feeling between residents of towns and those of the country, and possibly the members of the Grand Jury felt a sympathy for the country mer-chants, and determined to indict the city merchants though they had obtained their licenses by the evening of the 11th January.

I am no apologist for the action of the Solicitor, but it seems to me he ought to have a fair showing, and the Grand Jury bear their part of the blame in the hasty issuing of these indictments. A Grand Jury ought to protect the people againt avarito protect the people againt avari-cious Solicitors, as well as to see that all violators of law are indicted.

Aud if it be true that the Grand Jury did depart from the instructions of the Solicitor, the it is nothing but fair but the Solicitor should issue a nol pros in each case where the license was obtained by the evening of January 11th, or compromise with the parties indicted on the payment f part of the costs.

Only presentments should have been made at the January term of the court, and if a merchant had not listed his purchase and obtained his license by the time of the April term then he should be indicted, and not before, FAIR PLAY.

A Letter From Tarboro.

TARBORO, N. C. Feb. 21st '76. Editors News: Please inform the public who constitute the State, Executive Committee, that is called to meet in Raleigh, March 15. Jagree with you about organizing our party and the way to do it is to commence in time. I think the Democracy of North Carolina is the worst organi-zed, the most demoralized, of any in the whole South. With the white majority she ought to be the best organized, and in the fore rank of any and all of her sister Southern States in Democratic majorities. Respectfully, EDGECOMBE.

It is altogether a new idea in fertilization and works like a charm.

SAID a Raleigh man yesterday : "Keep pressing the importance of manufactories upon our people. It is the only enterprise that is reliable; the only enterprise that will build up Raleigh and make it a large city on a sure foundation." All this is truth.

THE post-master at Green Bay station on the Richmond and Danville road suspected one of his party was corresponding with the radical senator at Richmond to get him out of office, and so he opened the letter and read it. But just then the writer called to get back his letter. he wanted to enclose two postage stamps-and right there he caught the post-master.

What do Grant's soldiers think of him for a third term? Gen. O. O. Howard, with one arm off, thinks he would play a tiger over a free country if allowed a third term. We know of one weak young man with a loud voice who strongly urges a third term, and this young man during the war never got farther than the parlor window to look out at the soldiers. He spends half the time answering perfumed notes from the ladies and the other half editing the Washington Republican. O, my country.

Mr. J. G. HESTER, once the lottery man in this city, next a spy, and next charged a murderer, recently appeared as a lecturer before the Young Men's Christian Association in Washington City. And again we see while Mr. Moody was at Jacksonville, Florida, that Gen. Milton S. Littlefield, the organizer of a rogue's ring in this State and the corrupt purchaser of the Legislature of 1868. was leader of the choir in the revival meeting. And yet both these men may now be sincere in their religious convictions. It is not for man to judge them. Their "old sins' will be rung in their ears by all who have known their former life; it is but the slight taste of hell which sin always begets on earth. And still if they be really new men their lives will show it, and the world they move in will be compelled to acknowledge it, for so hath God made life.

SOUTHERN LOYALTY.

In the present temper of the Northern mind, whatever is done by any Southern Democrat is watched with suspicion and apprehension. The oft-repeated phrase of the "Confederate House" has not been without its effect, and every word and every act is viewed with an unfriendly eye. Notwithstanding the fact that the appointments by the officers of the House have been mainly from the North and West; despite the fact that the South has not received the number of appointments to which its Democratic strength would seem to entitle it, a doorkeeper cannot give a subordinate position to a Southern man without evoking a yell of horror from the loyal Tribune. Grant may give the soldiers of Mosby positions in the Departments, Longstreet's treason to his race may be rewarded with lucrative office, but if Adams, himself a Union soldier, dares to extend to a Southern Democrat the same consideration the tall tower resounds with frantic invective. The people of the United States are mildly besought to look at the Democratic party with "their nose in the trough." The Republicans control the patronage of the nation, the Democrats have only the few positions connected with the House of Representatives, and yet it is insisted that the Republican appointees of a former clerk shall not be displaced to make room for those whom the officers of the House prefer to rely upou as their subordinates. If the people of the South are members of the Union, if they are the peers of citizens of other States, if the professions of brotherly love in Boston a few months ago were not empty words, let these recriminations and jeers of our professed friends cease. We are invited to the centennial banquet of reconciliation; let us not be shown to seats below the salt. The people of North Carolina are honestly anxious to bury the evil feelings of the years of internecine strife. Their professions of loyalty are not unmeaning and hypocritical. We clasp the hands of the brave men who met us in conflict with cordial good will: we abate no jot or tittle of our love and admiration of the signal station, a fine double case gold warmander the site of the signal station, a fine double case gold warmander the site of the signal station, a fine double case gold warmander the site of the signal station, a fine double case gold warmander the site of the signal station, a fine double case gold warmander the site of the signal station, a fine double case gold warmander the site of the signal station, a fine double case gold warmander the site of the signal station, a fine double case gold warmander the site of the signal station, a fine double case gold warmander the site of the signal station. no imputation upon their honor, their faith or their valor; and we profess no regard for the men like Sherman and Kilpatrick, who violated the laws of God and man. Soon Garrick was at the feet of the peautiful and irresistable Mrs. Woffington. For three years he was her devoted admirer, a fond suitor for her hand. As she informed Arthur Murphy, she was so near being married to Garrick that he tried the wedding ring on her finger. And, would seem. It was scarcely to be wondered at. He was young, handsome, vivacious, and, the fashion. He was absolutely at the head of his profession. Herself an actress she could not but recognize his consummate genius as an actor. They had had visited Dublin together during the summer of 1742, and been re-ceived with extraordinary enthusi-"Garrick was caressed by all ranks of people as a theatrical phe-So wrote the historian of the Irish stage, who acknowledges that Mrs. Woffington largely edges that Birs. Would go contributed toward his success, and contributed toward a favorite. The crowds attracted to the theatre during the hottest months of the year produced an "epidemic distemper, which seized upon and carried off numbers, and from this circumstance was called the Garrick fever." Mrs Woffington, thanks, perhaps, to the fellow player, now took rank as an actress of tragedy. She appeared as Cordelia, Belvide ra, and Lady Ann to the Lear, Richard and Pierre of Garrick. Returned from Dublin, the lady, with Garrick and Macklin, agreed to "keep house" together. They formed a sort of partnership, were understood to have but one purse between them and each by turn managed the affairs of their house, No. 6 Row street. They had planned to open a sort of histrionic academy, to teach acting to all comers; but this scheme was speedily abandoned. Altogether, their establishment had its difficulties Garrick was accused of being parsimonious-throughout his life a certain thriftiness that characterized him was made the subject of much bitter attack. On the other hand, complaint arose that Mrs. Woffington was far too lavish in her expenditure. "With his domestic saving we have nothing to do," said Dr. Johnson, when the matter was brought under his notice. "I re-member drinking tea with him long ago, when Peg Woffington made it, and he grumbled at her for making it too strong," When the story was repeated to Reynolds, he mentioned an additional circumstance; "Why," cried Garrick of the tea "it's as red blood!" The first quarrel was with Macklin. He, with Garrick and other members of the company, had revolted against the misrule of Fleetwood, the manager of Drury Lane but Garrick, finding the cause hope but Garrick, finding the cause nopeless, owing to the persistent opposition of the Lord Chamberlain, made a separate peace for himself, and resumed his professional futies. Madelin, deeming himself betrayed, became thereupon, Garrick's bitter for for the end of his very long life Macklin persisted in depreciating and maligning his form. reproaching and maligning his form comrade. Some two years late and the lovers parted. Garrick hint ed his d sire to be released from his promise to marry Mrs. Woffington "Go, sir," she said indignantly "Herceforward I separate mysel from you forever. From this hour, decline to see you or to speak with you, except in the course of our pro-essional business, or in the presence of a third person." And she kept of a third person." And she kep her word. She was very angry, and she never forgave him. She return ed his letters and presents. He craved permission, so malice reported, to retain, as a memento of her, pair of very valuable diamond shoe buckles, which she had given him in the early days of their intimacy The town greatly diverted itself with this quarrel between the fond actor and the frail actress. Various lam-poons appeared in the public prints caricatures, bearing hard upon the gentleman, were exhibited in the print shop windows. But Garrick's onduct in the matter disentitles him to sympathy; he well deserved, in-deed, the public derision and contempt that he incurred. Dazzled by the beauty and the brilliant histrionc gifts of the actress, he had woose and besought her hand; abruptly disentangling himself from his en gagement, he was, least of all, enti-tled to reproach her with perfldy, or to dwell upon the laxity of her mode

For a time he had been content enough to play Desgrieax to her Ma-non Le-caut. She had been his Lovely Peggy" in the past. He ad addressed to her the lines begin-

"Once more I'll tune my passion tell—
To hills and dales my passion tell—
A fiame which time can never quell,
Which burns for thee, my Peggy!" But the fire of his love had now abolutely gone out. He reviled her ruelly enough, all the circumstances of the case being considered. She treated him with flerce scorn, laughng loudy at him by way of masking robably, the heartache she really ndured, and on all sides relating her version of the story of their leves, which placed him in a very disadvantageous light. They met only on he stage. They were both servants of the same manager, and compelled o act together. But in 1747, he beame joint patentee with Lacy and Drury Lane, and the fact of her being a member of his company ocasioned serious embarrasement to oth. Immediate escape was not possible, and her position in the heatre was additionally mortifying from the antagonism of the other actresses, Mrs. Cibber, Mrs. Pritchard, and Mrs. Clive, all members of the company, and all claiming the earliest consideration in legard to he performance of what are called

An Incident of the war.

The Woodstock (Va.) Herald re-cently announced that John Hoffman of Warren county, found during the latter part of January, while hunting on top of Massauuttan mountain, at the point or knot overlooking Strasburg, near the site In the year 1864 a detachment of Fed eral soldiers attacked a part of the Confederate signal corps and drove then, down the mountain, killing some and capturing others. The Hagerstown (Md.) Twice a- Week notices the finding of the watch, and adds:

"The writer of the following lines had charge of that signal station on that memorable day in the year 1864. There were about four of us and when the boys in blue, seventy-five in number, made their appearance deemed discretion the better part of valor and retreated in the style of General Banks about that time, in "good order," but somewhat precipitous. Down we sailed from the top of old "Strasburg point," in most beautiful time, but at the foot we rallied, being reinforced by about seventy-five sharpshooters of old Jubal Earley's command, when we retraced our steps, dislogged the enemy and recaptured our signal sta-tion. Now, shortly after taking possession of the post we discovered the body of an officer, a captain of the federal force, a few yards down from the point, among the rocks, with his neck broken. He was not shot, but from his position, he evidently fell in endeavoring to get up the side, or rather end of the moun tain. From the side coat pocket of this officer the writer hereof took an envelope in which was a photograph, the envelope being addressed "Cap-tain A. N. Pritchard, member Gen-eral Court Marshal, Cumberland Md." That watch, we have no doubt, belonged to the unfortunate officer. Where he was from we have never learned, but probably this article may fall under the eye of some one who knew the gallant captain, for it was a gallant act to lead seventyfive men to the top of an almost perpendicular mountain peak in the face of the enemy and the enemy's coun-

The brainess of reading to the jury Grant's deposition in the Babcock case at St. Louis was assigned to Judge Porter o' this city. The reporters tell of the dramatic style in which he performed that duty. We can believe it. It was Porter who was chosen to read to the Beecher jury the most wonderful letters that were produced as evidence on the Beecher trial. Only those who saw and heard him when doing this, can appreciate his peculiar powers in that direction. The use he then made of his voice, eyes, and features, and the manner of his gesticulation were calculated to act on the minds of observers to a degree that was the despair of the other members of the counsel. If the St. Louis jurors were not awe-struck when listening to the language of Grant's deposition, it certainly was not the fault of the

MEDICINAL. THE OLD NORTH STATE

Vegetable Stomach Bitters.

PREPARED BY: C. G. LANIER Hickory, N. C.

In offering to the public for their use an Old North State Vegetable Stomach Bitters, Ifeel no hesitancy in saying this is the purest and best article ever offered them.

I warrant each tottle to contain NO chemical whatever—nothing but the best vegetable preparation, (see recommendation of physicians,) and the purest Domestic Whiskey.

In preparing this excellent tonic I have spared no pains or cost to make it just what I recommend it to be— The Very Best Tonic ever offered to Invalids and Others, and without the usual cry of "Encourage Home Enterprise," I would say to all the suffering—Throw away the filthy and worthless drugs sold you heretofore by would-be "all cures," and try one bottle of The Old North State Bitters.

and if then you will say you have not been benefitted 'y its use, I will return to all such their money. OLD NORTH STATE BITTERS

be fully and freshly reported and expounded in The Sun.

The Opposition House of Representatives, taking up the lime of inquiry ovened years ago by The Sun, will sternly and diligently investigate the corruptions and misdeeds of Grant's Administration; and will, it is to be hoped, lay the foundation for a new and better per od in one national nistory. Of all this The Sun will contain complete and accurate accounts, furnishing its readers with early and trustworthy information upon these absorbing topics.

The twenty third Presidential election, with the preparations for it will be memorable as deciding upon Grant's aspirations for a third term of power and plunder, and still more as deciding who shall be the candidate of the party of Reform, and as electing that candidate, conce ning all these subjects, those who read The Sun will have the constant means of being thorough well informed.

The Weekly Sun, which has attained a circulation of over eighty thousand copies, already has its readers in every State and Territory, and we trust that the year 1876 will see their numbers doubled, it will continue to be a thorough newspaper. All the general news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full leng by when of moment; and always, we trust, treated in a clear, interesting and structive manner.

NOON DISPATCHES. The Suez Debate.

London, Feb. 22.—In the Suez debate Lowe and Gladstone criticised the transaction. Gladstone pointed the great risk England ran in abandoning her position as a champion of the interests of Europe to be come the champion of her own selfish interests. Mr. Disraeli said he thought the discussion showed unmistakably that if Mr. Gladstone had been in office the shares would not have been purchased. He did no recommend the purchase as a financial investment, but as a political measure calculated to strengthen the empire. The vote was agreed to.

The French Elections.

PARIS, Feb. 22.—It is estimated that when all the elections are held the Chamber of Deputies will stand about as follows: Republicans 280; Bonapartists 100. The remainder are of the various Monarchist and Constitutionalist shades.

A Bloody Day in an Iowa Town.

INDIANOLA, IOWA, Feb. 22.—Re turning from Church two families quarrelled. Two brothers, their father and a friend were killed. The attacking party, numbering six, are in jail. It was an old feud. Estella Captured.

MADRID, Feb. 22.—The Senate passed a vote of thanks to the army. Estella is captured.

Foreign Items.

The Carlist cause is considered in Paris as hopelessly lost. Don Carlos was in the Baztan Valley yesterday.

Gen. Martinez Campos' army is marching on Hernani. Disastrous floods in the provinces of upper Austria and Moravia; 120 houses destroyed. King Alfonzo entered Tobosa yesterday evening. The Royalists had previously carried all the heights near the town.

It is not yet known to whom President MacMahon will entrust the formation of a new cabinet. A Paris paper says that the Buffet Cabinet will have to render an account to the public of its administration of pubic affairs, and that any revision of the constitution, except in a repubican sense, is impossible.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES CONGRESSIONAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.-The committees did nothing to-day. Retrenchment reaches the Departments. Pardon clerks will be dispensed with, and the Marshalships of North Carolina and elsewhere, where the expenses have been enormous, will be consolidated.

One speech is allowed by the delegation from each city claiming the convention. Charles 1). Jacobs, Mayor of Louisville, read egation, in favor of holding the convention in that city. "Louisville is eratic State, that gives 40,000 majority; a State so uniformly democratic her adherence to truth, right and has no sympathy with the ultraism of any section. Louisville has a hall capable of seating 2,500, but if neces sary for more room, the Exposition building could be secured-all incidental expenses being paid. hotels had agreed to charge only the usual rates, and many citizens, if the hotels should be overcrowded, would open their houses to guests. Kentucky had no son to present for nomination, and therefore the delegation would be free from improper influences. Kentucky would cheerfully acquiesce in whatever the convention might decide." Mr. Ja obs. in conclusion. as Mayor of Louisville, promised that, should the convention meet in that city, the hospitalities would be such that every delegate, on his return, would feel as if he had never left home.

NORTH CAROLINA

Fell from his hip pocket. Charlotte Observer: While Mr. T. A. Tate was walking along Tryon street, about the corner of Fourth, on Sunday night, a pistol slipped from his hip pocket, and was discharged as it struck the pavement. The ball enankle, and passed through the fleshy part, passing through his boot leg on the other side. It did not touch the bone, and the injury, consequently, is neither serious nor very painful.

An old man. Charlotte Democrat: We are informed that James Hicks died in Lincoln county on the 9 h inst., at the age of one hundred and six years. He was born in Virginia early in 1770, and moved to North Carolina in 1789. Our correspondent says that "he raised a large family and was a laboring man all his life." He certainly was a "laboring man" if he raised a "large family;" but it is to be hoped that he now has rest. How few men or women live to be as old as James Hicks!

Jail them, and chase the married men out of the State. Asheville Pioneer: Our worthy Mayor was engaged for several days last week in investigating the cases of two citizens charged with harboring women of loose character for the accommodation of men who were false to their marital vows. They were each proven guilty, and fined, respective-ly $5 and $10. The lecture field is still open, while everybody is at liberty to preach.

Raw eggs for burns. Asheville Pioneer: On Sunday, the 6th inst., Clarence, son of Mr. James P. Saw-year, was severely burned while standing in his night clothes near the fire. The little fellow, who is only seven years of age, had just arisen from bed, and turning his back to the fire, dropped his nightgown around his feet. The sleeve of the garment fell in the fire, and soor the whole of it was ablaze. His grand-mother, who was in the room, extinguished the flames, but not be ore the child was severely burned .-In the midst of his sufferings, his father rushed in, and having heard that raw eggs were good for burns he plastered him with them until he looked like a marble image striped with ochre. The effect was almost magical. It relieved the sufferer in five minutes, and shortly thereafter he ate a hearty breakfast. An invention by a Granville lady Oxford Torch-Light: We saw last week at the residence of Dr. A. C. Harris, of Sassairas Fork, a capita bread toaster, the invention of Mrs. Harris. It consists of a sheet of heavy tin, 16 inches wide and 18 inches long, about one inch of the edge turned up all round to give it stiffness and forming a shellow Over the whole surface of the bottom are cut a number of V shaped open ings and the tongue of tin, forming the inside of the V, is turned out at right angles to the sheet, forming a number of sharp points on which slices of loaf bread are stuck to hold them in place. The whole apparatus is then set up on the hearth and held upright by a heavy wire hinge on the back. Those who have had the good fortyne to enjoy Mrs. Harris's excellent toast will appreciate an invention of such domestic merit.

Dailing, you look very bad, And I lear you've caught a cold; Bu l'apa says you'll soon be glad, After you have once been told— To take Dr. Buil's Coogh Syrop.

Ten years ago Messrs Geo. P. Rowell & Co. established their advertising agency in New York City. Five years ago they absorbed the business conducted by Mr. John Hooper, who was the first to go into this kind of enterprise. Now they have the sa isfaction of control ing the most extensive and complete advertising conjection which has ever been secured, and one which would be hardly possible in any other country but this. They have succeeded in working down a complex business into so thoroughly a systematic meth od that no change in the newspaper system of America can escape notice, while the widest information upon all topics interesting to advertisers to placed readily at the discussion of the public.

MEDICINAL. BRONCHITIS CURED!

The above cut represents DR. JONES' SYSTEM of curing diseases of the throat and Lunga; directing the remedies to the seat of the disease in the form of medicated air. Gives immediate relief, and effects a certain cure finally, in the most pleasant manner without taking drugs into the Stongs h.

SYMPTONS OF SPECIFIC AND GENERAL CONSUMPTION AS IT PREVAILS IN AMESTA, (COPY-RIGHTED BY DR. JONES.)

DR. JONES, will remain at the McADOO House, Greensboro, N. C., until March the six h. DR. Jones will practice at the Arlington House Danville, Va., from the sixth to the twelfth of March. At the Batari and Exchange Hite, Richmond Va., for the tirteenth of March to the third of April 1876.

A collection of tenacious or slimy secretion falling down into the throat thrown our-lick ing, rasping, hoarseness and scraping to keep open the wind pipe; difficult breathing, oppression and soreness under the breast bone; tenderness in the left side; theusasic paids between the shoulders; stiff neck on taking cold; salpitation of the heart; torpid liver; sometimes yellow complexion; general dull heavy feeling; extreme shoriness of breath; soreness of stomach-rit; bloated sensation; belching of wind; yawning, gaping, keeping mouth open to breathe; distress, seepless oights; worse when lying down, and it now it terminates either in consumption of the lungs; or follows the mucus membrane through the whole alimontary and urital cansi, cansing dispepsia, costiveness, piles, influmation of the bladder, trouble in the nrinary organs, (and in women nearly the whole train of female discase), and gener I Consumption, emacistion, complete prostration, etc., with all of which, and many other symptoms, called by twenty different names, the saffer may exist a while.

Dr. Jones cures this Dangerous and Insidions Disease by the Ærlen system—using specific medicines known only to him self, applied to the diseased surface, in the form of spray. He relieves the sufferer in a few minutes, and supplies the patient with all that is required to finish the cure at home.

EYE, EAR, NOSE and THROAT. Dr. Jones has made a specialty for fifteen years of the organs of sense he is a gradute of the Homepathic, Alcouthe and Eclectic Medical Colleges, and also of the New York Ophthalmic and Aural Hospital. His Diplomas from the same are suspended in his office, Boom No. 28, McAdoo House, Greensboro, N. C., where he remains until the first of March.

OZORVA, AN OFFENSIVE DISEASE IN THE Nose, which eats away the partition bone, cestroys the sense of smell, produces green or vellowish ischars, the shape of the nostril—sometine as flat, often tainted with blood and matter; causes weight and dull aching over the eyes, head-che, loss of memory, giddiness, etc. This disease is often caused by neglected colds, by suppressed skin diseases, scrouls, scarlet fever, psoriasis, syphilis, and other contagions. It often extends to the toroat, preducing hoarseness, bronchitis and consumption. It is a tertiary form of cancer, destroying the nose and throat when too long neglected. Dr. Jones is the only physician in the United Stetes who thoroughly understands curing this dangerous, offensive disease. He destroys the offensive smell in five minutes, and retieves the sufferer in every way at once, and cures the disease in a short time. For this disease Dr. Jones has special instruments with which to apply his specific remedies to the spot. Nasal D uches and catarrh remedies generally drive this disease to the lungs more quickly.

(ROSS-EYES MADE STRAIGHT IN A FEW MINUTES, (in all cases excepting quite eluerly people and children.)

STAMMERING AND IMPEDIMENTS OF SPEECH cured in from one fiour to a week, (excepting in illiterate persons and children.)

FEES FOR TREATMENT and operations, 4 . from $40 to $5, 00—average from $50 to $500,

TERMS CASH.—His fees are considered low for the great amout of good he does. It is impossible for a physician who has but the usual medical education to successfully treat the Eye, har and Throat, and to succeed in cu. ing those more difficult diseases of long standing, and perform the se delicate operations which are frequently necessary about the Eye, Nose, Ear and Throat; therefore, Dr Jones has availed himself of all the advantages the world affords to fit himself for his natural and chosen profession and of his success the reader may judge by the following testimonials:

J. P. Garish, M. D.,
Prof. M. Stevensom, M. D.,
Prof. J. Beakly, M. D. Philadelphia.
Prof. W. A. Reed, M. D.,
Rev. A. B. Parsens. D. D.,

The evidorsement of MR. HU.-H MORSON, JR., by Professors Glidersleeve, Peters and Schele DeVere, of the University of Virginia, with the high appreciation which his scholarly attainments have commanded here; and the endersement of Maj D. 4. Hamilton by Col. Simonton, of South Carolina, with the record he has made for himself as practically acknowledged by Col. Tewand others, are sufficient guarantees of their ability and skill as instructors. With such co-operators, the Principal feels that he can prove the school to be all that a parent could desire or an enlightened public sectiment demands.
